

WEEKLY NEWSLETTER

To the Belmont Family,

A warm (very warm, thanks to our new boiler system coming online!) welcome back to the second half of the Autumn Term. I hope you all had a lovely break from school, and it would certainly seem that the children are refreshed and energised for the coming weeks ahead judging by the spring in their step as they've come through the gates this week.

It has been a wonderful week here in school, which was kicked off by our newly-minted Eco Team, who helped deliver assemblies to both KS1 and KS2 on how we can all play our part in cutting carbon and tackling climate change. I will admit that the suggestion that we all go without devices for a day was a controversial one to the respective audiences, however several brave souls suggested they could manage it, so watch this space! I would like to thank Mrs Roberts for her time in supporting this wonderful facet of our Pupil Leadership offer, and also the team themselves who have gotten off to a great start! Looking ahead, I would also like to thank Miss Rogers for her work in co-ordinating our school's Anti-Bullying Week events, with Odd Socks day, national live lessons and various lessons throughout the week raising awareness throughout Belmont on this year's theme of "Power for Good." In addition, Belmont will also take part in Remembrance Day, marking the 2 minutes silence within school while also holding specific lessons around this important moment in the country's calendar.

This week it was a pleasure for Belmont to welcome a number of Headteachers from around Hounslow Borough to our school as part of our continued school improvement work. Alongside the senior leadership of Belmont, the Heads observed lessons, met with children and subject leads to discuss our ongoing practice. They were full of praise for the children's confidence, articulation and approach to their learning and their eagerness to share their work with visitors. I will be visiting the respective schools in turn during the coming weeks as part of our ongoing commitment to the development of best practice in Belmont and Hounslow as a whole.

I will end this week with a congratulations - I wish to say a huge well done to Mr McDonnell who completed the amazing achievement of his 100th park run just before the half-term. This is in itself a brilliant accomplishment, however he also managed to do it in a PB time to add the icing to the day! Leading us neatly to the finish line, I will wish all of the Belmont family a pleasant weekend, and look forward to seeing you next week!

From Monday 10th - Friday 14th November, Belmont Primary School is proud to be participating in Anti-Bullying Week, an annual UK event coordinated by the Anti-Bullying Alliance that aims to raise awareness about bullying and promote ways to prevent and respond to it.

To start the week, we are inviting the children to take part in Odd Socks Day on Monday 10th November. On this day, we encourage the children to wear funky, colourful, odd socks to promote the idea that we are all different, and that being individual and unlike anyone else is what makes each of us unique.

Please send your child to school on Monday 10th wearing odd socks. The brighter and more colourful, the better! We also kindly ask parents and carers to make a donation of £1, which will be donated to the Anti-Bullying Alliance. As part of our move to becoming a cashless school, donations will be taken via card payments at the gates or through MCAS, where there will be a payment item under products/store.

Thank you for your support.

Best wishes,
Miss Rogers Year 3 Teacher PSHE Lead
