

WEEKLY NEWSLETTER

To the Belmont Family,

Happy New Year to you all, and a wonderful warm welcome back to Belmont as we start a brand new year!

It has been an absolute pleasure to have opened up the gates and welcomed everyone back into Belmont following the Christmas break, which I hope was a great opportunity to spend time together as a family, whether here in London or farther afield, and refuel the engine for the coming (eventually, we hope!) of Spring. I would also like to take this opportunity to thank the parents and carers both personally, but also on behalf of the staff, for their incredible generosity of gifts and lovely cards which came into us - it is really touching, and means a great deal to us all, so thank you!

Of course, with a new year comes new experiences and opportunities, with a huge variety of exciting and engaging events, workshops and trips coming up as we look ahead - one notable highlight is for our children at the top of the school, as Year 6 make their way to central London to see the Hercules at the Theatre Royal in Drury Lane next week. Events such as this can truly spark and inspire the children's imaginations and engagement, and of course are supported by the amazing contribution the parent community makes to fundraising throughout the school year and beyond - so a huge thank you all for your efforts. I would also add here a big thank you and another welcome to the PTA committee, who will continue this excellent work moving forward. A further thank you to those parents who gave up their time to meet with the school leadership to discuss our ongoing efforts to evolve our communications as a partnership between home and school - the conversations were incredibly informative, and have helped develop some refinements and ideas which we will speak more to in the coming weeks.

I wish you had a lovely weekend, and look forward to seeing you for our first full week back!
